Presentation of the journal

Research Papers in Language Sciences (CRSL) is an international open-access scholarly journal affiliated with the Department of French Language and Literature, Faculty of Arts and Languages, Mustapha Stambouli University of Mascara, Algeria. Founded in 2023, it publishes original work describing the various manifestations of meaning in linguistics, literary text sciences and didactics.

The journal welcomes unpublished articles in French and English and is open to multidisciplinarity. Its scope covers discourse analysis, sociolinguistics, psycholinguistics, textual linguistics and conversation analysis, and may extend to other fields such as translation. Submitted articles are double-blind reviewed by an international scientific and reading committee.

Manuscript format

Manuscripts submitted to CRSL must be written in French or English. They must include a bilingual title, an abstract of no more than 150 words, five keywords, the body of the article and bibliographic references. The form of the article must meet the requirements described in the journal's official template: Times New Roman 12, 1.15 line spacing; numbered headings (1., 1.1., 1.1.1.); numbered, titled and sourced tables and figures; references conforming to the model.

Instructions for submitting articles

As part of the submission process, authors are required to follow the steps below:

1- Before submitting, if the author does not have an ASJP account, he or she must register on the ASJP platform at https://www.asjp.cerist.dz/ and click on "login" to create an account.

2- Once the account is created, the author is given an email address and a password that can be used for all operations carried out on the platform of the CRSL journal (ISSN 2992-0302, EISSN 2992-0647).

3- The author must search for the CRSL journal on the ASJP platform by clicking on "journals". Link: https://www.asjp.cerist.dz/en/PresentationRevue/921

4- To submit an article, the author clicks on "article submission", located to the right of the space reserved for the CRSL journal on the ASJP platform.

5- The author must carefully read the documents provided by the journal: "Guide for Authors", "Copyright" and "Declaration of Originality and Copyright".

6- The author must comply with the style sheet (template) downloadable from the journal's space on the ASJP platform.

7- The author must follow the journal's instructions to the letter.

8- The article must be original and unpublished; it must not have been previously published or submitted simultaneously to another journal.

9- The submission file must comply with the format required by the platform.

Article evaluation process

The evaluation of each article follows the process below:

1- The journal's secretariat checks whether the article matches the call for papers, taking into account the importance of its topic and its originality.

2- Each article accepted for evaluation is double-blind reviewed by two national and/or international experts who are members of the journal's editorial board and have the required competence in the article's field of reference.

3- After review, the experts reserve the right to request major or minor revisions, or to reject the article.

4- The experts annotate and comment on the authors' articles in order to justify the final decision of their evaluation.

5- The experts must attach the annotated and corrected article to the evaluation form.

6- If one expert accepts and the other rejects the same article, a third review is mandatorily requested to decide.

7- After receiving the acceptance notification, the author must complete, sign and send the "Declaration of Originality and Copyright", downloadable from the journal's space under the "Guide for Authors" heading.

Before submitting: checklist

Please check that your submission includes:

- the article formatted according to the journal's official template;
- the signed and dated "Declaration of Originality and Copyright";
- full author details: name, affiliation, country and professional email address;
- the title, abstract and keywords in both French and English.

Please note: published articles remain freely available on the ASJP platform; authors retain their rights under the conditions set out in the "Copyright" document.
