1. INTRODUCTION

Although there are a lot of research in Arabic, and there are many people interested in publishing in Arabic, there is a problem with the lack of journals indexed in Scopus that adopt the Arabic Language. For that, Many researchers face the problem of publishing in Arabic in indexed journals, which requires facilitating the process of searching for journals that adopt the Arabic Language, determines the specializations or areas accepted in each journal. Through this paper we want to provide a brief-tables with links about journals indexed in Scopus that adopt the Arabic Language.

Regarding list of journals Indexed in Scopus that adopt the Arabic Language (Updating List May 2023) It was previously published by (Benziane, 2023), But that work included only the list and did not include any additions, While our work more updating based on Scopus (Scopus, 2023), and includes classifying journals, providing direct links, as well as Quartile ranking journals to facilitating and simplifying the search process for Active journals indexed in Scopus that adopt the Arabic Language.

2. Objectives of the Paper

This paper aims to:

- Help researchers who want to publish in Arabic language by simplifying the search process for Active journals indexed in Scopus that adopt the Arabic Language.
- Contributes to increase of Universities 's visibility by increases citations of research published in Arabic
- Increases Arabic research published in journals indexed, especially in subject of Social science and Economics, Econometrics, and Finance.

3. Method

At first we used Scopus source list (Updating List September 2023), and we tried to classified for helping researchers to find any journal from those 29 in easy way. Secondly; We have created Abbreviations to make tables contain all the important information. Thirdly; we searched for: Direct links to Home page of all Journals; Links to Journals Home-pages in the Scopus Preview.
